Midwest Young Artists Conservatory: Giving Tuesday

Midwest Young Artists Conservatory is participating in Giving Tuesday with #ILGive! Midwest Young Artists Conservatory is pleased to announce that on November 28th from 12:00AM to 11:59 PM, we will be participating in #ILGive, an online Giving Tuesday campaign that engages Illinoisans to give back to non-profits in their communities. Midwest Young Artists Conservatory will be accepting all donations through the #ILGive platform, which can be accessed at ilgive.com and searching for “Midwest Young Artists Conservatory” as well as through MYAC’s website, mya.org/support. Help us continue our mission of building a home with the power of music to enrich the lives of our students and their community!

Founded in 1993, Midwest Young Artists Conservatory is a full-curriculum pre-college music school which has garnered a reputation among professional musicians and educators as a place for students to enjoy and nurture their passion for classical and jazz music. MYAC offers a wide variety of educational music programs from early childhood music and movement, to elementary school choral and entry level orchestral groups, to advanced orchestra, chamber music, choral, jazz, music theory, and music composition programs.
